

Diewe op heterdaad betrap

JANA BEKKER

Inwoners moet hul motorhuisdeure met ordentlike slotte toesluit, want nie alle slotte keer inbrekers om toegang daartoe te kry nie.

Só maan kaptein Fienie Nimb, woordvoerder van die Bellville-polisie, ná verskeie inbrake by motorhuise in Oakdale die afgelope tyd.

Twee sulke inbrekers is in die vroeë oggendure verlede Woensdag vasgetrek. Ao. Darick Kroon en konstabel Thando Theophilus Pere was besig met patrollies in Oakdale, toe hulle twee fietse onder 'n motorafdak in 'n oprit gewaar.

"Dit is baie ongewoon vir daardie tyd van die oggend en ons het stilgehou," sê Kroon.

Terwyl hy besig was om agteruit te ry in die rigting van die erf, het Kroon 'n beweging opgemerk.

Hy het stilgehou en hy en Pere het nader gestap, toe hulle voete onder die bakke gewaar.

"Die volgende oomblik het 'n man agter die boot uitgespring en begin hardloop," vertel Kroon.

Pere is agter die man aan, terwyl 'n waarskuwingskoot afgevuur is.

Met dié het die man agter die bakke uitgekom. 'n Derde persoon is gevind waar hy agter die boot lê.

'n Stukkende slot, waarmee die motorhuisdeur gesluit is, is gevind.

Een van die verdagtes het voorheen by dié huis gewerk.

"Hy het die huis geken en was besig om die fietse aan te gee na die ander twee toe, maar gelukkig het ons hulle betrap," sê Kroon.

Hy maan inwoners om nie enigiemand van die straat af vir werk by hulle huise in te neem nie.

Stewige slotte, verkieslik van die soort wat nie geknip kan word nie, moet gebruik word om deure te sluit, versoek hy.

Die twee mans wat in hegtenis geneem is, het vorige oortredings begaan, onder andere vee- en winkeldiefstal en verskeie vir aanranding met die opset om ernstig te beseer.

Konstabel Thando Pere en ao. Darick Kroon het verlede week drie mans op heterdaad betrap, terwyl hulle by 'n motorhuis ingebreek het. Twee van die mans is in hegtenis geneem.

An expedition to the Alps

A local "polar bear", 18-year-old Henko Roukema of Vierlanden in Durbanville, is leaving on an adventurous expedition in the Swiss Alps and northern Canada on Saturday.

Henko, who finished matric at Stellenberg High School last year, regularly takes part in extreme cold water in open water swimming events.

He recently finished the challenging extreme ocean Cadiz Freedom Swim as the third South African male and is preparing to participate in the Speedo Africa Ice Swim later this year.

He has been selected to join the famous and experienced South African explorer, Mike Horn, and his team for two weeks in the Swiss Alps.

Their base in Switzerland will be Chateaux d'Oex, a little village in the Alps.

Young people between 15 and 20 years of age can apply for selection to this opportunity to learn from specialist educationalists and gain experience and learn from survival experts.

Participants will learn various outdoor skills such as mountaineering, absailing, canyoneering, white water rafting, parasailing, navigation and sailing.

Teams will then use all these skills to go on a raid over the Alps.

According to Henko they will also learn about the flora, fauna, cultures and traditions of the area where the next expedition will take place.

In his case, it will be to Nunavut in northern Canada, the home of the Inuits.

"While discovering nature, we will be helped to understand important environmental issues that affect the world today.

"On our return we will be ambassadors for the Young Explorers Programme and share our knowledge with other young people," he said.

"I am very excited to meet the other youths, coming from all over the world.

"The selection process was tough and I am proud to represent South Africa," Henko said.

Look out for silver Audi

Residents are requested to be on the lookout for a Silver Audi with registration number CA 618432.

Two men, one a tall blond skinny male in his mid to late twenties, are coupled to housebreakings in the Northern Suburbs.

The occupants entered a property at Selborne Down, Selborne Close, Oude Westhof last Wednesday around 19:00, seemingly thinking the owner was not home. The men did not appear to have a valid reason for being on the property, other than to pretend to sell the client a newspaper subscription.

Residents who see this vehicle in their area are requested to phone their local police station or security provider.
